Huntington Beach, California, March 2, 2006 Todd Creeger -- an Orange County-based, relationship expert -- today announced the formal opening of the Todd Creeger Center For Successful Relationships, the launch of its new website (www.toddcreeger.com), and its sponsorship of the Newport Beach Chamber of Commerce's Networking Breakfast March 8th, at the Newport Dunes Waterfront Restaurant.

Todd Creeger, LCSW, LMFT, founded the Center for Successful Relationships to help individuals and groups find the hidden powers within themselves to effect positive change in others. Todd is Consultant, Business Coach, and Psychotherapist with over twenty-five years of experience helping groups, organizations, couples and individuals achieve their goals by bringing out the best in others. He also offers speaking services.

"It's an exciting time for the Center for Successful Relationships," stated Todd Creeger. "More and more businesses, groups and individuals are beginning to recognize they can improve the important relationships in their life. Our services help them do this and to be more successful," he said. "We revamped our website and sponsored the Newport Beach Chamber Breakfast this month to raise awareness for the Center, while also supporting local business."

Todd's practice began over twenty-five years ago in Tustin, CA. Demand for his services has grown to the point where he recently established the Center for Successful Relationships in Huntington Beach, CA. The Center offers an array of services that include consulting, coaching, and speaking for businesses, groups, organizations, and individuals. Psychotherapy services are offered for individuals and couples, including Marital and Sex Therapy.

The revamped website "went live" recently, and it is loaded with detailed information about The Center. It's a powerful resource for businesses, groups, organizations, and couples who wish to enhance their success by tapping the long-term experience of an expert in the field of relationships. The site also contains an archive of published by articles from Mr. Creeger and an online shop that offers resources on DVD and CD.
